Sweet Sounds Speech Therapy specializes in identifying and addressing speech and language challenges in children aged 12 months and older. We focus on:

- Enhancing communication clarity for children who struggle to be understood by new listeners.

- Providing targeted therapy for children identified with speech or language difficulties.

- Supporting children who are not meeting expected speech and language milestones.

Early intervention is crucial as research indicates that delays in speech and language can impact future literacy skills and social interactions. Therefore, we advocate for early detection and intervention to optimize outcomes for children in their developmental journey.

Does My Child Need an Evaluation?

A Speech-Language Evaluation can determine whether your child's skills are developing normally or whether professional intervention is needed. A thorough evaluation allows the Speech-Language Pathologist to precisely target areas requiring intervention. If your child has had an evaluation within the last six months, an evaluation at SSST may not be required.

Additionally, if your child has a current IEP from the school district,an evaluation may be waived.

What if My Child Needs Therapy?

Our experienced Speech-Language Pathologists will create a personalized therapy program tailored to your child's requirements. This plan aims to enhance their communication skills and social interactions with peers.

At Sweet Sounds Speech Therapy LLC, we employ a play-centered method to therapy, actively involving parents throughout. These strategies are designed to seamlessly integrate into daily routines such as dressing, bathing, eating, reading, and playing.
